Don't waste your time

- Do you want your sales force spending their day performing price shops?
- Do you have the headcount to properly perform the task?
- Do you truly know all the regional sales points to call?
- Will your results be un-biased?

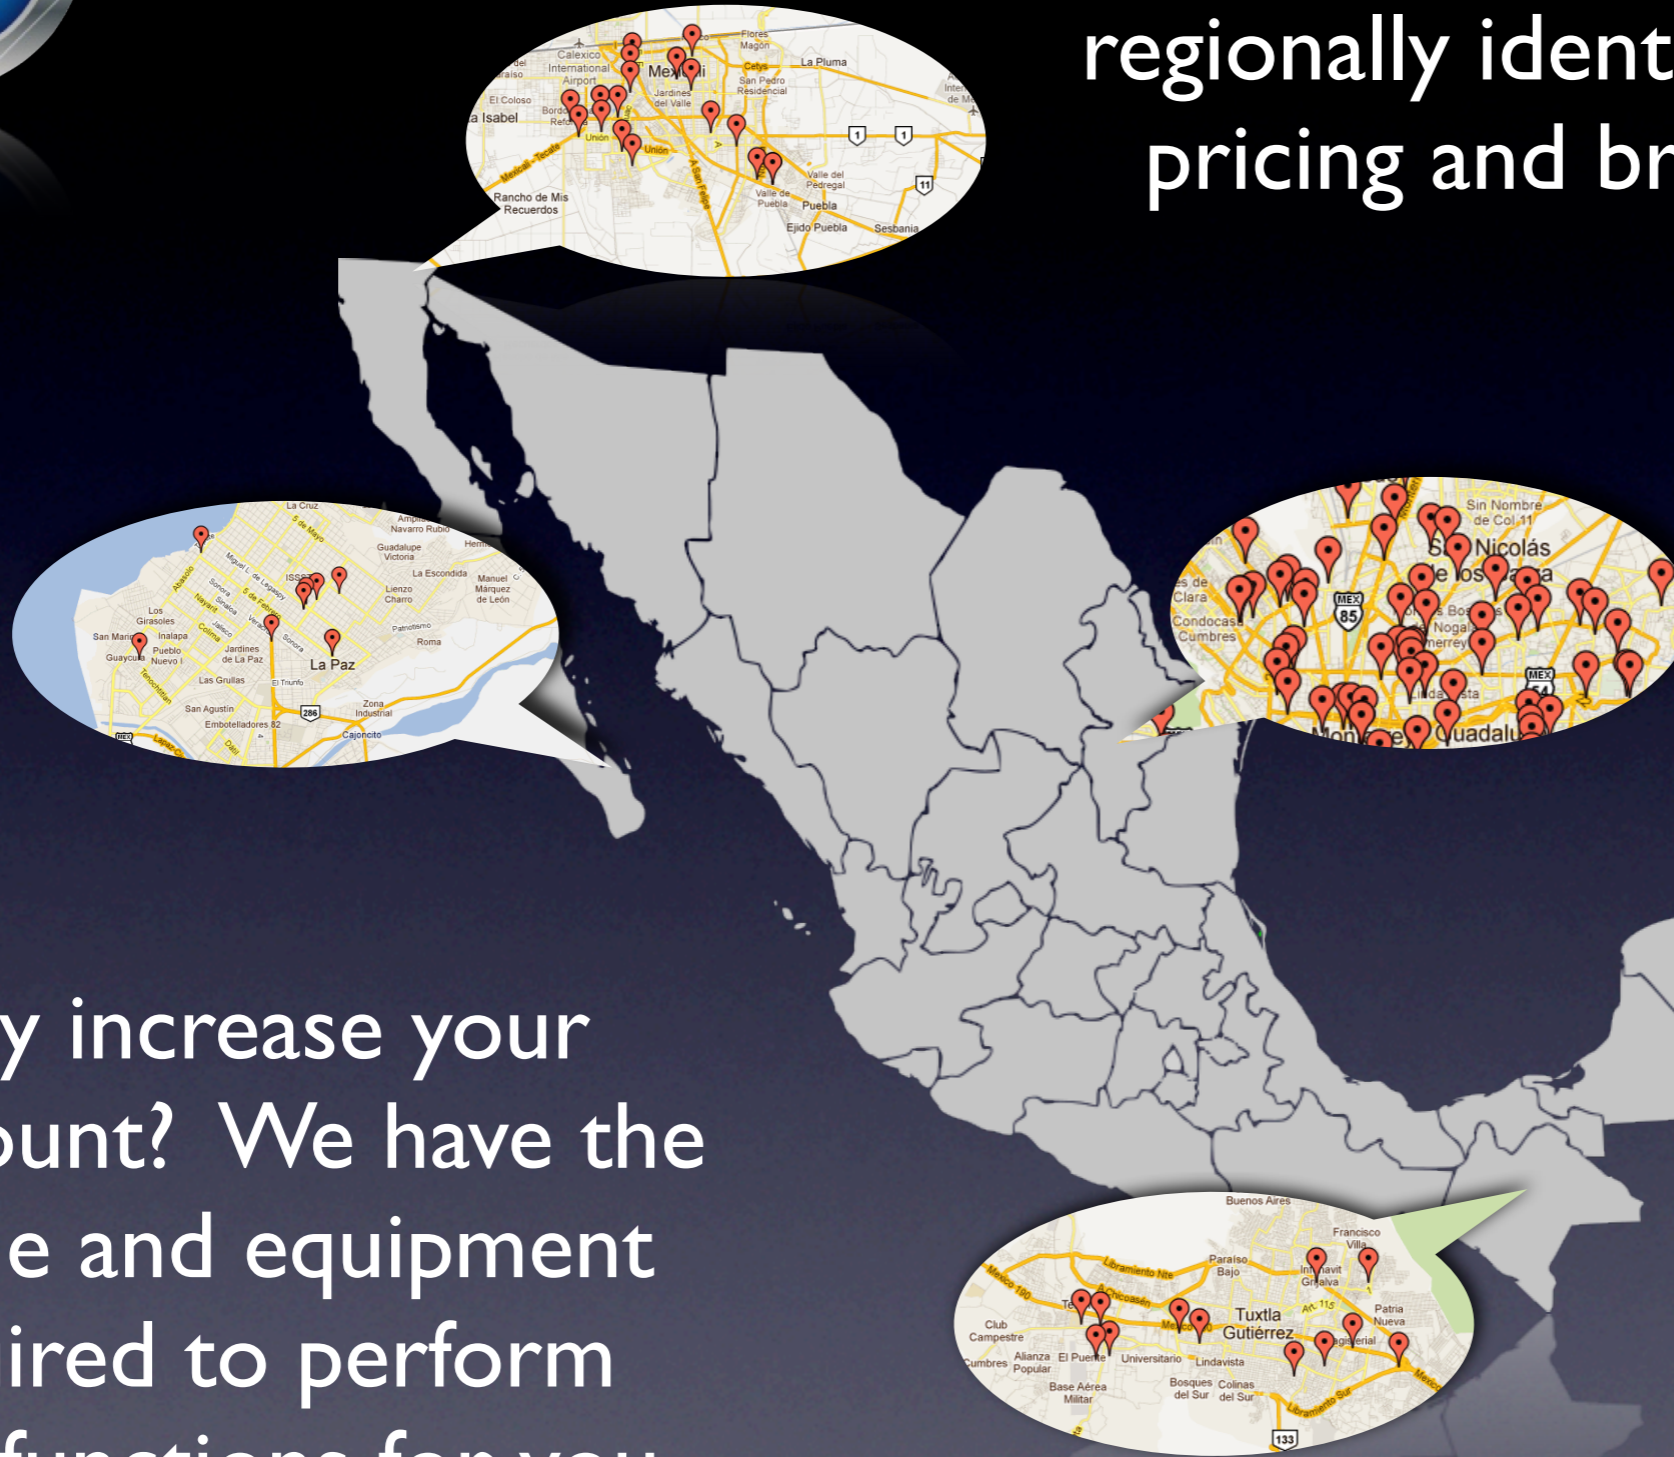

Benefit to You

- Independent 3rd party market data
- Complete countrywide analysis
- Mexican technically trained callers
- No long term headcount issues for you
- Your sales force can focus on selling

Our Call Center has the ability to regionally identify differences in pricing and brand saturation

Why increase your headcount? We have the people and equipment required to perform these functions for you.

Arm your Sales Force

- Eliminate the customer argument of “your price is too high”. Your sales force will know the market prices prior to potential customer visit.
- Compare “Apples” to “Apples”, you will know your price compared to similar quality level product.
- Educate the potential client how their pricing model compares to their competition.
